OUR CAST OF PLAYERS (in no particular order)

David Woolford	Broadmoor's loss is the Worthy Players' gain
Douglas Mackie	Time to take the bull by the horns once again
Alison Woolford	Over 30 years with the group. Got her role by sleeping with the producer!
Shirley Lovell	Back by popular demand. Hers!
Janine Blackmore	Yay! It's radio so I won't have to wear a dress. (Unfortunately, the director disagreed!)
David Early	I've been told I have a good face for radio
Charlotte Hammond	Give her a coffee and nobody gets hurt!
Clare Nicholas	Forced to suppress her northern accent and use a false R.P. accent instead!
Connie Barnes	In the words of Neil Sedaka, Sweet 16 (oh, and 2)
Miriam Edmond	Exudes music from every score
Nick Kearns	The home has allowed him out just for the evening
Treive Nicholas	Suffering multiple personality disorders for the show
Barbara Kearns	As featured in the CAMRA good beer guide
Kirsty Turner	Jackie of all trades, but mistress of none
Sarah Kesterson	Plays the Broad particularly well
Tim Ellwood	Having lived in Wales for 25 years, you'd think he could do a decent Welsh accent
Dave Alderson	Helps with the lighting, but sometimes has blackouts

Our Special thanks to

- * The Worthys Festival 2017
- * Wessex Windows for use of overflow parking
- * The Jubilee Hall Committee
- * ADH Printing, Kings Worthy for ever-considerate service
- * The Parish Magazine
- * Our Front-of-House Staff
- * And, of course, You, the audience

Our 'Radio Variety Show' is a new venture for The Worthy Players, produced by David and Alison Woolford, and is performed as part of the Worthys Festival.

With our Panto rehearsals starting already, it was helpful to be able to use this style to employ a large cast in multi roles who didn't have to learn all their lines. We hope you enjoy the format.

AND, SUPPORTING US IN FRONT OF HOUSE AND BACKSTAGE ...

Producer	David Woolford
Stage Manager	Connie Barnes
Sound and Lighting consultant	Richard Aldous
Set Construction	The Very Worthy Players
Sound & Music	David Woolford & Miriam Edmond
Lighting	Dave Alderson
Front of House & Bar Manager	Nick Kearns
