present:

an amateur production of:

Falling off a Log

A comedy by Georgina Reid

at

The Jubilee Hall, Kings Worthy
8 pm

7, 8, 9 September 1995

The Worthy Players are proud to once again have their autumn production included in the King's Worthy Festival Week and, to connect with the floral theme of the Festival of Flowers, have selected Georgina Reid's "Falling Off a Log".

For the past five years, Gerald has punctually written his weekly letter to Mother who, now married to an oil tycoon, lives in America and yearns for a bit of Old England to cross the Atlantic. Mother's passion, and the subject of Gerald's dutiful reports, is her garden; what she doesn't know is that her son's green finger has fallen short of her expectations and what is described in the letters is not the garden she left - now a rampant jungle - but their neighbour's.
